

CAOIMHÍN Ó RAGHALLAIGH

www.caoimhinoraghallaigh.com

Photo credits above (L to R): Con Kelleher x2, Lucy Clarke x2, Aron Mattsson, Lucy Clarke. Click each photo to open an online high-res version.

Caoimhín Ó Raghallaigh makes music on a 10-string fiddle called the hardanger d'amore, and travels the world as a solo musician, in various duos, and as a member of two bands, The Gloaming and This is How we Fly.

He has performed on some of the most beautiful stages in the world, including the Sydney Opera House, the Royal Albert Hall and the Lincoln Center.

He has made sixteen recordings to date, ranging from quite traditional to fairly out there, and continues to explore the region where traditional music begins to disintegrate.

Caoimhín is known as a collaborator, having worked with artists such as Laurie Anderson, Amiina and Vincent Moon.

He has made music for theatre and film, including music for the Oscar-nominated movie Brooklyn and Volker Schlöndorff's Return to Montauk.

the most imaginative and fascinating musician in all of trad

- Earle Hitchner, Irish Echo, USA

the missing link between Martin Hayes and Purple Haze

- Nick Kelly, Irish Independent, Ireland

the most singular traditional Irish musician of [his] generation

- State Magazine, Ireland

Video links:

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=vrb2Tg_0hcY

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=BQa48j-mz5c>

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=R48IXNaeT00>

<https://vimeo.com/194753005>